ST. VITUS DANCE. A Physician Prescribes Dr. Milen Restorative Nervine.

pr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.: My daughter Mattie, aged H, was affileted last spring with St. Vitus dance and ner-vousness, her entire right side was numb and nearly paralyzed. We consulted a physician and he prescribed Dr. Milea' Restora-tive Nervine. She took three bettles before we saw any certain signs of improvement, but after that she began to improve very fast and I now think sho is entirely cured. She has taken nine bottles of the Nervine, but no other medicine of any kind.

FATRMONT, August 7.—The Monongalla county teachers' institute closed this day at noon, and we are thus far on our way home. The examination of teachers is now in progress and will be continued to-morrow. An organization was formed by the teachers of every district and institutes will be held regularly during the school be held regularly during the school year. The committee on resolutions reported in favor of a reading circle, of the county superintendent's receiving a living salary, and his devoting his entire time to the work; of a uniform system of examination of teachers throughout the state; of holding the institute some time while the schools are in sension, and that the teachers be allowed the time for fattending, etc., etc.

An evening session was held on Thursday, at which quite a number of short talks were given on various subjects; general good selections were sung and a good time generally was had. The chizens of Morgantown treated the teachers right revalle.

short talks were given on various subjects; general good selections were sung and a good time generally was had. The chizens of Morganiown treated the teachers right royally, showing that they take a deep interest in the cause of education.

Professor I. C. White and family are visiting at the home of Stephen B. Eikins. By the way, it was my privilege and pleasure to be shown through Mr. White's magnificent residence and to say that it is a complete home only expresses what one feels after passing through It. From the balconies on the different sides of the house is had a view of Morganiown and the very beautiful country surrounding it, that can be had from no other one place. Mr. White is grently in love with the little given of the state of the country surrounding it. White staying over night in this, Morganiown's rival in everything that pertains to true greatness, we can see that Fairmont takes no buckward steps, but is improving as rapidly perhaps as is good for any town of its size. It has a healthy, steady growth, and the two little cities will soon be counted among the foremost places in the state.

Professor Robert A. Armstrong is here to-night on his way home from Webster Springs, where he conducted an institute. He has thrown aside his crutches and now uses a single cane and soon "Richard will be himself again." The professor thinks he will be more careful in the future when or, his wheel. By the way, he is strongly spoken of in connection with the nomination for the state superintendency of schools on the Democratic ticket. He has many warm friends and if he should get the nomination, he would make the race a lively one. The general opinion, though, is that Messrs. Lewis and Trotter will make the race; but political conventions (Democratic) this year are very uncertain as to what is done by them and we are forced to wait until after the meeting to know what the result may be.

In company with Mr. Armstrong, was Judge Hudson, formerly of Stanton, Va. but now of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a more earnest Rep more carnest Republican and a more uncompromising sound-money man, it has not been my fortune to find anywhere in my travels.

The Republicans of Fairmont are a unit for sound money and protection. Many of the Democrats are the same way, while but few will vote that way, if the Democratic party put out any if the Democratic party put out any unit for sound money and protection.

Many of the Democrats are the same way, while but few will vote that way. If the Democratic party put out another theket on a sound money platform, quite a number here will evote it, but if not, they will swallow the Chicago platform, free silver and all, hoping that free coinage will never come to pass even if Bryan is elected. This i give as the opinion of one of the most prominent cirizens of the place. I find that everywhere the political califron is beginning to seeth slightly and after next week it will begin to boil in earnest and will no doubt so continue in West Virginia until the "idea" of November be passed. The campaign of education has begun, and to be successful it has commenced none too soon.

The working men are the ones the free silver advocates are looking to for their greatest help, and they are the ones that free colnage will hurt more than any other class. If they can only be caused to use their good common sense and sound judgment, and not to listen to the appeals to prejudice, they will vote all right. This is the feeling everywhere among those who are thinking.

GOVERNOR'S DAY

At Camp Holley-The Review a Pleasing

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 8.— There are always some notable days in camp. "Governor's day" is always looked to with very much interest as it is ed to with very much interest as it is renerally the case that the rank and file among the men rarely get to see their commander in chief with his starf and aides de camp in full uniform on any other day. Then three are the inspection days for the regiments which days are fruitful of much more fear and trembling among the officers and men that any other day. Another notable day is the "rainy day" which Colonel Smith says they never fall to enjoy at some time during the encampment. encampment.
There had been some thought of passing this latter day, but the program has was changed at an early hour this was changed at the switched on to the morning and it was switched on to the was changed at an early hour this morning and it was switched on to the programme simultaneously with the "governors' day." The sick and convalescents are all improving and but few complaints of illness are-heard about the camp. While camp siekness has nevailed to some extent, the men have been in much better condition than they ever were before. The good health of the men with the pleasant surroundings of the camp has not depresiated the high opinion which has been entertained from the beginning concerning Camp Holley.

There was a little diversion from the programme this forenoon by one of the commissioned officers of Second regiment and a private of the First regiment scrapping a little, but no one was luttle, as the disturbance was soon quelled.

At 8 o'clock occurred the sovernors.

At 6 o'clock occurred the governor's review, which was a model for completeness. The officers and men had put themselves in splendidly presentable condition and the 'cool air of the day lead given them an elasticity of movement which enabled them to go through the intricate evolutions on the parade ground with alacrity and precision. The two bands furnished inspiring music, which was enjoyed by the thousands of people present. After reviewing the troops the goyernor, by request, addressed the brigade in one of his characteristic speeches, after which the command retired into camp. Colonel Hodges' resignation took effect immediately after review, and Lieutenant Colonel Casteel was promoted to fill the vacancy, while Major W. H. Banks was promoted to fleutenant colonel. At 6 o'clock occurred the governor's

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets. NEW YORK, Aug. 8,-The stock mar ket to-day was active and irregularly weak with a feverish tone prevailing throughout. Covering of shorts was practically the sole element of support.

The only new development bearing upon prices was the bank statement showing a decrease of $3,913,025 in surplus reserve and a falling off of $7,649,500 in deposits. The exhibit exerted an unfavorable influence, although in the judgment of conservatives a less favorable showing has been discounted. The opening was weak and fractionally lower, the more noteworthy losses being in Sugar

The developments of the week will not be chronicled as among the least striking in the history of Wall street. The speculation was marked by a steady melting away in the value of stocks and bonds, including those of sterling investment character. The depression grew largely out of previously prevalling and still existing conditions, rather than to any special new happenings, with the important single exception of a gradual increasing stringency in the money and commercial paper markets.

a gradual increasing stringency in the money and commercial paper markets. While panic prices were recorded, there was not an open sign of embarrassment or of exceptional excitement. Liquidation at times was so violent that apparently only the interposition of the hear leaders prevented the market from going to pieces. London, with unimportant momentary exception, wits a depressing factor, selling comparatively large blocks of our state.

cate and sterling loans to large amount were made. The increased drawing bills against futures together with marked falling off in demand caused well informed financiers.

The bond market of the week displayed to the fullest extent the generally unsatisfactory condition of financial affairs. In many of the gilt-edged securities it was impossible to secure bids and sales were made at important variations from the previous transactions. The constant liquidations of local and foreign investment holdings as well as large speculative lines, gave an appearance of activity toward the close which was in marked contrast to the re-

Silver certificates were neglected and moved narrowly on dealings of $37,000. Evening Post's London financial cablegram: There is no improvement in the market. Americans opened rather better, but soon gave way, closing at about the lowest. Other markets are now feeling the effects, the depression being exagerated by the weakness of the continental bourses. The settlement next week is awaited with some anxiety, as it is known that certain firms were only helped over last time with the hope that Americans would improve. At the same time money is so plentiful that it is hoped nothing really serious
